NOON REPORTS.

The Republican Convention.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The convention was called to order at 10:35 a. m. The chair ordered the roll-call for the 29th ballot and it was proceeded with. When Alabama was called and the vote announced, its correctness was questioned by a member of the delegation, and it was ordered that the roll of delegates be called.

29th ballot—Grant 305; Blaine 278; Sherman 116; Edmunds 12; Washburne 35; Windom 7; Garfield 2.

Then one of the delegates stated that his colleague was absent—sick, and had authorized him to cast his vote for him, and he asked whether he could do so. To this the chairman replied that the roll-call must not be interrupted and that question would be decided when it arose.

The roll-call went on, and when the name of Alexander was called and responded to, the question was raised as to whether the response had been made by Alexander. It was admitted that it had not been.

A second delegate from Alabama, also, failed to respond, and then when the delegates were called, the names of alternates for absent delegates were called. There was a response, however, from only one of them.

The chair stated as his mode of executing the rule on the subject, in case of the failure of a delegate to respond, the name of the alternate standing opposite on the roll could be called, and if he did not respond, then the name of the other alternate from that district would be called, and in case of the delegates at large, then the names of other delegates of that class would be called.

The vote of Alabama was then announced, as follows: Grant, 15; Blaine, 1; Sherman, 3.

The result of this decision was to lose Grant one.

When Virginia was called, the chairman announced 16 for Grant, 3 for Blaine and 3 for Sherman.

The colored delegate challenged the vote, when the roll was called in detail, when four responded for Sherman instead of three, as previously announced.

Mr. Carter, the delegate at large, being absent, his alternate responded for him. Subsequently a delegate who had changed from Blaine to Sherman, changed his vote back to Blaine, which left Virginia as originally recorded.

30th ballot—Grant 306; Blaine 279; Sherman 120; Edmunds 11; Washburne 33; Windom 4; Garfield 2. Alabama casts its full vote and so gains one for Grant. Florida transfers one from Sherman to Grant; Illinois transfers two from Washburne to Blaine; Indiana one from Blaine to Sherman; Maryland one from Blaine to Sherman; Minnesota three from Windom to Blaine; New Jersey two from Blaine to Washburne; North Carolina one from Sherman to Grant; South Carolina one from Grant to Sherman; Tennessee one from Edmunds to Sherman; Wyoming one from Grant to Phil. Sheridan.

31st ballot—Grant, 308; Blaine, 276; Sherman, 117; Edmunds, 11; Washburne, 33; Windom, 3; Garfield, 1; Conkling 1.

32d ballot—Grant, 309; Blaine, 270; Sherman, 117; Edmunds, 11; Washburne, 44; Windom, 3; Garfield 1.

33d ballot—Grant, 309; Blaine, 276; Sherman, 110; Edmunds, 11; Washburne, 44; Windom, 4; Garfield, 1.

34th ballot—Grant 312; Blaine, 275; Sherman, 107; Edmunds, 11, Washburne, 30; Windom, 4; Garfield, 17.

35th ballot—Grant, 313; Blaine, 257; Sherman, 101; Edmunds, 11; Washburne, 23; Windom, 3; Garfield, 50.

In the 34th ballot Tennessee transferred one from Blaine to Grant. In Wisconsin Grant gained 1 and Garfield gained 16, 8 being from Washburne, 5 from Blaine, and 3 from Sherman. Garfield refused the use of his name.

In the 35th ballot Indiana gave Garfield 27, Grant 1, Blaine 2. Totals of the 35th ballot, as announced, were: Grant, 313; Blaine, 257; Sherman, 99; Edmunds, 11; Washburne, 23; Windom, 3; Garfield, 50. There was the greatest excitement when the break was made for Garfield.

36th Ballot called—Connecticut transfers 2 from Blaine and 9 from Washburne to Garfield; Georgia transfers 1 from Sherman to Blaine, 1 from Sherman to Garfield; Illinois gives Garfield 7, four of them from Blaine, 3 from Washburne; Indiana transfers 2 from Blaine to Garfield. (Great excitement apparent) The Ohio delegation in the Convention rose and cheered Garfield as did the galleries. The Indiana vote stands, Grant 1; Garfield 29; Sherman and Ohio men and New York anti-Grant men lead in a grand applause for Garfield, kissing hands to each other in mutual gratulation. Iowa followed with 22 for Garfield. There was a scene of great confusion which the officers of the convention could not control for a long time. Kansas ransfers 6 from Blaine to Garfield and holds its 4 for Grant. Kentucky transfers 3 from Sherman to Garfield. Louisiana transfers 8 Blaine and Sherman votes to Garfield. Maine gave Garfield 14 [great cheers]. Maryland announced Grant 6, Garfield 10, and the vote being disputed the Maryland roll was called in detail, resulting Garfield, 10; Grant, 6. Massachusetts 4 for Grant, 22 for Garfield. Michigan gave 21 for Garfield The Grant men generally stood by their colors. Minnesota gave 2 for Grant, 8 for Garfield. Mississippi gave 8 for Grant, 2 for Garfield. New York gives Garfield 20; Missouri, 1; Nevada, 3; Ohio, 43; Oregon, 6; Pennsylvania, 21. Down to the State of Pennsylvania Garfield has 328 votes. He has a majority, apparently, on the 36th ballot.

36th Ballot—Grant, 306; Blaine, 42; Garfield, 399; Sherman, 3; Washburne, 5. Garfield nominated.

MIDNIGHT REPORTS.

The Republican Convention.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The following is a continuation of the 36th ballot: New York gave Garfield 20 votes; Missouri, 1; Nevada, 3; Ohio, 43; Oregon, 6; Pennsylvania, 21. Missouri was called in detail and resulted, Grant 29, Garfield 1. Nevada at first gave Garfield 6 but the announcement was challenged and the call resulted, Garfield 3, Blaine 1, Grant 2. The Grant leaders were doing their best to hold their forces together, apparently with the hope that Garfield could not get a majority. New Hampshire gave Garfield 10; New Jersey, 18. New York gave Grant 50, Garfield 20. North Carolina gave Grant 5, Garfield 15. Ohio gave Garfield 43; Oregon, 6. Pennsylvania gave Grant 37, Garfield 21. Rhode Island gave Garfield 8. South Carolina gave Grant 8, Garfield 6. Tennessee gave Grant 15, Blaine 1, Garfield 8. Texas gave Grant 13; Garfield 3. Vermont gave Garfield 10. Virginia gave Grant 9, Garfield 3. West Virginia gave Garfield 9; Grant 1. Wisconsin gave Grant 2, Garfield 18, which gave him 379—just a majority of all.

The audience in the galleries sprang to their feet, as did also the great body of anti-Grant delegates on the floor, with enthusiastic cheers, and for a few moments there was a scene of wild excitement. The banners of Massachusetts, Maine, California, Vermont, Michigan and other anti-Grant States moved towards and surrounded the Ohio delegation. The military band in the hall struck up "Rally around the flag," in which the immense audience joined with a great voice, and in remarkably good time. When order was restored Wisconsin corrected her vote to 18 for Garfield; Arizona gave Garfield 2; District of Columbia, Garfield 2; New Mexico, Garfield 2; Utah, Garfield 2; Washington, Garfield 2; Wyoming, Garfield 2. The totals of the 36th ballot were:—Grant, 306; Garfield, 399; Blaine, 42; Sherman, 3; Washburne, 5.

The chair announced that Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, having received a majority of the whole vote cast, was nominated for President of the United States, and asked shall his nomination be made unanimous.

Mr. Conkling said he had intended to move the nomination be unanimous, but the chair had anticipated him. He briefly addressed the convention, hoping that the unanimity now displayed here would be transferred to the field of campaign, and that all who differed here would unite in carrying a lance against the common enemy.

Mr. Logan pledged himself and his friends to sustain the nomination and he earnestly believed that victory would crown their efforts.

Mr. Beaver, of Pennsylvania, on behalf of that State, seconded the motion. The country might expect from her the largest majority that she had ever given in any Presidential contest for many years.

A motion by Mr. Harrison, of Indiana, to take a recess until 5 o'clock p. m., was carried.

A large number of candidates were put in nomination for Vice-President, but all were subsequently withdrawn except Chester A. Arthur, of New York, whose nomination will probably be made by acclamation.

EVENING SESSION.

The convention began to reassemble at 5 o'clock. On the chairman's table stood a large floral model of a full rigged ship, floating in a sea of color, in which the name of Garfield was worked with scarlet flowers.

The convention was called to order at 5:30. Mr. Lumbard's male quartette, of Chicago, opened the proceedings with the song, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," which elicited much applause, and a stormy recall, to which they responded by giving a comic negro campaign song, known as "Old Shady."

Mr. Geary, of Maryland, moved that the convention proceed to receive nominations for candidates for Vice-President. Adopted.

Mr. Pixley, of California, nominated Elihu Washburne, of Illinois.

Mr. Robinson, of Connecticut, presented the name of Marshall Jewell.

Mr. Hicks, of Florida, nominated Thomas Settle.

Mr. Houk, of Tennessee, nominated Horace Maynard.

Mr. Woodford, of New York, nominated Chester A. Arthur. Mr Arthur's nomination was seconded and supported by a majority or the whole of the delegation from Ohio, New Jersey, Illinois, Missouri, Mississippi and Maryland.

Mr. Chambers, of Texas, presented the name of ex-Governor Davis, of that State.

Members of the delegations from Pennsylvania, Kentucky, and other States, then announced that they were almost unanimous for Arthur.

Florida thereupon withdrew the name of Settle, and Texas that of Davis.

The roll was then called for ballot. New York cast 69 votes for Arthur and 1 for Washburne. The ballot resulted as follows: Washburne 193; Jewell 44; Settle 1; Maynard 30; Arthur 486; Davis 2; Woodford 1; Bruce, of Mississippi, 8; Alcorn, of Mississippi 4.

Mr. Frye in the chair said Mr. Arthur had received a majority of all the votes cast, and was the candidate for Vice-President.

On motion of Mr. Haymond of Colorado, the nomination of Mr. Arthur was made unanimous.

On motion of Mr. Conger the usual committee of one from each State was authorized to apprise the candidates of their nominations, said committee to be appointed by the chair.

The chair said he would select the committee to-night.

At 7:30 the chair thanked the convention for its patience and forbearance in sustaining him in the discharge of his duties, and then the convention adjourned sine die.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—SENATE.—The Senate passed bills removing the disabilities of Wm. Sharpe and John M. Brooke, of Virginia, and devoted the rest of the day to the sundry civil appropriation bill.

HOUSE.—The morning hour was dispensed with, and bills were passed as follows:

To create a new collection district in North Carolina; to improve the lakes between Shreveport, La., and Jefferson, Texas.

To fix the rate of duty on barley malt at twenty-five cents per bushel.

Proceedings were temporarily interrupted for considerable time by news from Chicago, which caused much excitement. The announcement of Garfield's nomination was received with loud cheers, and the House soon afterward adjourned.

After adjournment the Republicans, with the consent of the Democrats, organized a sort of ratification meeting in the Hall of the House to express their gratification over the nomination of their old associate, General Garfield, for President. Mr. Hawley, of Connecticut, took the chair and speeches were made by that gentleman, Messrs. Robeson, Kelly and others. A committee was also appointed to send telegrams of congratulation to Mr. Garfield.

A Celebrated Case.

DANVILLE, VA., June 8.—The celebrated case of the Reynolds negroes remanded from the U. S. District Court, Rives Judge, to the Circuit Court of Patrick county, came up for trial there last week, and on motion of the Counsel the venue was changed to the Circuit Court of Danville, Judge Green. A special venire has been ordered for their trial here on the 21st inst.

Egyptian Cotton.

LONDON, June 8.—The Monthly Cotton Circular states that Egypt can hardly be expected to yield another monster crop, and so far indications are quite the other way, the plant being very backward. Authorities say it is from three weeks to a month later than last year.

Illinois Primaries.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Primaries in the city yesterday for the Democratic county convention resulted in a clean sweep for Seymour delegates. Harrison was the favorite for Governor.

DAVIES' MATHEMATICS

are justly called the National Standard. They are used in the great National Schools at Annapolis and West Point, in the public schools of the National Capital, have received the quasi endorsement of the National Congress, and are more popular in every section of the national boundary than any other series.

Since the death of Dr. Davies (in 1876), his work has been carried on by Dr. W. G. Peck (who was his trusted colleague), and under whose supervision the following entirely new series of text-books has been prepared, covering the whole science:

Davies' & Peck's brief Arithmetic.
" " complete Arithmetic.
Peck's Manual of Algebra.
Peck's Manual of Geometry.
Peck's Practical Calculus.
Peck's Analytical Geometry.

STEELE'S NATURAL SCIENCE.

The "Fourteen Weeks" books in each science are very popular on account of the brief but intensely interesting and practical presentation of the subjects.

Steele's 14 weeks in Natural Philosophy.
" " Chemistry.
" " Astronomy.
" " Geology.
" " Physiology.
" " Zoology.
" " Botany.

THE DAILY NEWS.

BY P. M. HALE, PRINTER TO THE STATE.

L. L. POLK, CORRESPONDING EDITOR.

RALEIGH, N. C.

WEDNESDAY.....JUNE 9, 1880.

THE CHICAGO CANDIDATES.

JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio, was yesterday nominated for President, and CHESTER A. ARTHUR, of New York, for Vice President.

General GARFIELD is at present a member of the House of Representatives from Ohio, and Senator-elect from the same State, having been chosen to succeed Judge THURMAN, whose term expires on March 4, 1881. He was a Brigadier or Major General in the war between the States, but we do not remember to have heard good or ill of him in that capacity. He has represented Ohio in the House of Representatives since the war, and even among the bitter haters of the South abounding in that body his bitterness has made him more conspicuous than his abilities, which are great. Of other public service in which he has been engaged, we recall only his share in the disreputable doings of GRANT'S visiting statesmen to the South in 1876–'7, supplemented by his steady votes, as a member of the eight to seven electoral commission, to count out the rightful President and to count in a fraud. He is about fifty years old.

General CHESTER A. ARTHUR is a General by courtesy, we think. He is a New Yorker of middle age and is Collector of the Port of New York. He is Mr. CONKLING'S Chief of Staff, holds his office as the result of the HAYES-CONKLING fight over "civil-service reform," and is nominated for Vice-President by order of Mr. CONKLING, who is powerful enough to control the party in all matters except the nomination of a third-term candidate, regarded North as equivalent to suicide.

The ticket is stronger at the North, weaker at the South than a GRANT ticket would have been. The third term would have destroyed GRANT'S chances North. The name of GARFIELD has no strength here. The negroes know but two names, LINCOLN and GRANT; and LINCOLN dead and GRANT beaten their interest in the election is ended.

THE CHICAGO PLATFORM.

This rather long document is printed elsewhere in this morning's NEWS, more as matter of reference than as of immediate interest. For the present there is neither need nor inclination to examine it very carefully. The platform itself is dose enough for one day to the average reader, if indeed he can be made to swallow even that much. The Philadelphia Times aptly describes it by saying that nearly half of this remarkable contribution to political literature is occupied in a review of the history of the United States, taking the subject up about where BANCROFT left off. In brief, we may say that credit is given the Republican party for nearly all the good things secular that have been vouchsafed to us by Divine Providence in the course of twenty years, while all the discreditable incidents of its record are complacently ignored, and the Democrats are solemnly called upon to foot the bill for the outstanding balance of evil. Objection might be made to the historical accuracy of some of these claims, but the searcher for truth does not seek it in Radical party platforms, and need not be told that this platform-history, like its predecessors, answers accurately to that definition of history in general which has won very general popular acceptance.

Pointing with pride, however, is a very poor business. It has been said of people who talk much of their ancestry that they are like that humble vegetable, the potato, in that the best part of them lies under ground. The party as well as the man who lives wholly in the past virtually confesses arrival at a time of life when it has little right to expect a future. The question that the people will ask is, what has this great party to say, not as to the fugitive slave law of twenty years ago or of the war for the suppression of the great "rebellion," but of its plans and purposes in the event of its being entrusted with the administration of the Government for another four years? When it comes to this important part of its platform the Republican party, as represented at Chicago, descends to the plane of meaningless generalities.

Platforms do not amount to much any way. But so long as the fashion of having them is kept up we have a right to expect that they shall set forth sincere opinions on living issues in intelligible form. The Chicago deliverance falls below this moderate standard, and after adorning the pages of almanacs and political text-books, will pass even sooner than usual into oblivion.

THE 31st NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS.

In contradicting the incorrect statements made about Judge FOWLE'S conduct at the Battle of White Hall Bridge, where he was not, a failure to correct other statements quoted from the Watchman's correspondent may have induced the belief that they were true. As the surest way of ascertaining the truth, we took the trouble a day or two ago to mount the stairs to the State Library and look into the file of the Fayetteville Observer for 1862–'63. There we found, indeed, that there were the usual false rumors about the conduct of troops engaged and the usual disproof of them; that so far from censure the Lieutenant Colonel of the 31st—to our own surprise we found that our old friend Col. NED LILES had even then reached that rank—received the commendations of the General in command, G. W. SMITH; and that the troops had acquitted themselves handsomely under very heavy fire.

Among other documents we stumbled upon was the manly letter from Colonel LILES, which is printed elsewhere in this morning's NEWS. It settles all the historical questions raised by the writer in the Watchman.

THE DEVIL takes care of his own. We do not remember that any previous Convention has taken both the nominees, for President and Vice-President, from its own members. Nor do we remember any Convention so universally ill-reputed.

Commencement at Wake Forest College.

[Reported for THE RALEIGH NEWS.]

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, June 8.

The train from Raleigh this morning was crowded. Two of the coaches were filled with the Sunday-school of the Good Shepherd Church, of Raleigh, on its way to Kittrell's for a grand gala day. The glow of pleasure beamin; on the faces of the bright happy children and the merry ringing glee that prevailed, betokened a day of unmixed pleasure and enjoyment.

At the depot we were greeted by a burst of music that told at once that in this line at least there was a treat in store for the visitors. All I know of it is what I learned by reading on the old war-worn bass drum, "First Virginia regiment band, Richmond, Va." It told of service at tattoo and reveille in different scenes and times.

I learn that the exercises of last evening consisted of declamation by twelve of the students chosen by the faculty equally from each of the Literary Societies.

The Taylor Medal was awarded to Mr. E. M. Poteat, of Yanceyville. All the young gentlemen, I am told, did well, but especial mention is made of the effort of E. S. Alderman, of Wilmington. The awarding committee make honorable mention of Messrs. G. W. Herring, of Pender; S. A. Williams, of Yanceyville; C. B. Gower, of Clayton, and R. A. T. Cooley, of Franklinton.

The Board of Trustees met at 10 a. m. The venerable Dr. Brooks, who has so long and faithfully served the institution, occupied his place as President of the Board. He was forced by the condition of his health to resign, and Dr. Skinner, of Raleigh, who had just been elected to supply a vacancy on the Board, was chosen unanimously to the presidency of the Board.

Reports of the various officers and committees were made. Dr. Pritchard, the President of the College, made an exceedingly interesting and able report, giving a sketch in detail of the work during his administration. He stated that the roll contains 171 names, being an increase over last year of 54 pupils. He has visited many sections of the State, travelling 8,000 miles. Various matters of great importance to the institution engaged the time of the Board during the day. Rev. R. H. Marsh, on behalf of Prof. W. G. Simmons, presented to the Board of Trustees a very fine copy of the Holy Bible, for the use of the chapel in the Memorial Building.

The new buildings are fast approaching completion. The Library Hall is a model of good taste and beauty. The large chapel in Memorial Building is ready for the reception of the large crowd which will be present during the week. It is well ventilated and is capable of seating comfortably over 1,500 persons. It is admirably constructed for public occasions and speaking, the acoustics I think more perfect than any hall in the State.

A pleasant occasion is confidently anticipated, and a very large crowd is expected.

Good speeches are looked for, but to many of the visitors, they will sound as a "tinkling cymbal" and will be forgotten in the melting music of that wooing eloquence that soon will be whispered among these groves, in hundreds of fervent addresses.

The pupils, teachers and friends of the College seem to be buoyant and full of hope for a future of great usefulness for the institution, and that the occasion now so auspiciously opened will surpass any that has preceded it at this place.

Captain T. D. Boone, an Alumnus of College, will deliver the address before the Alumni Association to-night. He is a popular teacher of large experience and is Moderator of the Chowan Association—the largest body of the kind in the State.

Dr. D. R. Wallace, of Waco, Texas, arrived to-day, and will deliver the Annual Literary Address to-morrow (Wednesday) at 11 o'clock a. m. He is a native of Pitt county, and graduated here and delivered the Valedictory in the year 1850. He was Surgeon General of the Confederate States forces, west of the Mississippi, during the war, and had charge of the Texas Insane Asylum for a number of years.

Dr. Wayland Hoyt, Pastor of the Strong Place Baptist Church, Brooklyn, will arrive to-night and preach the Baccalaureate Sermon to-morrow night. He is perhaps the most brilliant Baptist preacher in New York.

The catalogue of this College shows the same number of students as that of Chapel Hill. The educational interests of the Baptist denomination throughout the State are brightening, and this impulse is largely owing to this College and the active, efficient field labor of its able and indefatigable President. The efforts of Dr. Pritchard and Dr. Battle in this direction are worthy of all praise. L. L. P.

Danger of Hasty Judgment.

[Cleveland Herald.]

It was dinner-time in a select boarding-house. At that interesting moment a new boarder arrived. He was a venerable-looking gentleman, with long, silvery hair hanging low upon his shoulders. His face beamed with benevolence, and a sweet repose betokening a pure and holy life. As he joined the other guests at the table, the landlady looked towards him saying, "Would you please ask a blessing, sir?" and the venerable stranger shouted in reply: "You'll have to talk louder, marm; I'm so——deaf."

Orange County Democracy.

THEY TAKE THINGS GOOD-HUMOREDLY.

[Correspondence of THE RALEIGH NEWS.]

HILLBORO, June 8, 1880.

EDITOR NEWS:—Orange held her Convention yesterday to appoint delegates to the State, Congressional and Judicial Conventions.

A. W. Graham called the Convention to order, and C. W. Johnston was made chairman.

The roll of townships was called, and all were represented except Cedar Grove and Patterson. Mr. W. D. Woods was requested to act for Cedar Grove.

Mr. Alexander moved that the twenty-four votes to which Orange is entitled be apportioned among the different townships according to their relative Democratic votes; and that each township delegation select its own delegates to the various Conventions. This resolution was adopted, and the townships withdrew to make their selections.

After a few moments' consultation, the townships reported to the Convention a list of names selected as delegates, and the same was duly adopted by the Convention.

Mr. A. W. Graham offered a resolution requesting the delegates to vote for Julian S. Carr for Lieutenant-Governor, and made a nice little speech for Mr. Carr. The resolution was seconded by Messrs. Parrish and Strudwick, who each made remarks highly complimentary to Mr. Carr, which were received with applause.

Mr. Harris, of Chapel Hill township, moved to amend Mr. Graham's resolution by striking out "requesting the delegates," and inserting "instructing the delegates" to vote for Mr. Carr. This amendment was opposed by Mr. Strudwick and Mr. Graham, who said they did not wish to go to Raleigh with their hands tied, and they asked Mr. Harris to withdraw his amendment. This Mr. Harris consented to do, but objection was made by Capt. Tom Lyon, of Durham, who renewed the motion to amend, and made a rousing Carr speech. Capt. Ben Cameron replied that he was opposed to instructions; that he thought Col. T. M. Holt a more suitable man for Lieutenant-Governor, and that he expected to support him; that he also was a large manufacturer and had charge of large business interests, and his experience as presiding officer of the Railroad Directory and his acquaintance with the routine of legislation rendered him better fitted for the position than Mr. Carr, who was inexperienced entirely in political and legislative matters. Capt. Cameron was replied to at length by Parrish, Lyon and others, asserting Mr. Carr's entire fitness for the position. Again the gentlemen opposing the instructions requested Mr. Lyon to withdraw his amendment, which Mr. Lyon consented at last to do; but the moment he did so, it was renewed by Mr. Harris, the originator of it, and another debate followed for several minutes, the gentlemen opposing the instructions insisting that they were heartily in favor of Mr. Carr, but were opposed to instructions from principle. Finally Mr. Harris withdrew his amendment instructing the delegation, and Mr. Graham's resolution, requesting the delegates to vote for Mr. Carr, was carried unanimously.

Mr. Strudwick then addressed the Convention, explaining his own position upon the question of the Governorship. He was for Jarvis out and out; he had served with Jarvis in the Legislature of 1868–'69; he knew of his manful opposition to the Special Tax Bonds; he was surprised at those who asserted to the contrary; and in his opinion the people of North Carolina owed more to Jarvis, Durham, and John Graham than any three men in her borders.

Capt. Lyon then told the Convention that he was for Fowle; that he of the silver tongue and golden mouth was the man to "bear the banner," &c., &c. C. E. Parrish thought that a dark horse would and should win if what the newspapers said about both, Jarvis and Fowle, was true. The Convention then adjourned.

The victory is decidedly with the Jarvis men; his friends assert that eight-tenths of the entire delegation is for Jarvis, and I have no doubt the assertion is founded in fact. The understanding was that the Convention would endorse Fowle, and Cal. Parrish was the man to manage the Fowle boom, and he promised the Judge great results. Yesterday after adjournment Ike Strayhorn was telling on the streets a joke that fills the bill: Old Mose Chambers, of Person, who for many years represented that county in the legislature, on one occasion (when he was defeated) sent his overseer to a certain precinct on the day of election, armed with a large jug of whisky with which to turn the voters from the other fellow to Mose. The overseer went and the whisky was duly imbibed, but the whole crowd and the overseer too, who had gotten very drunk, voted against old Mose! The next day when the returns came in and old Mose's eye rested upon the return from the box visited by the overseer, and discovered his vote to be a large 0, he lifted up his voice and exclaimed: "Where in the hell was my overseer?" And Judge Fowle, said Strayhorn, when he reads the list of Orange delegates, will likewise want to know: "Where in the hell was my man Parrish?" Yours, JOHN COMON.

C. B. Watson for Attorney-General.

[Correspondence of THE RALEIGH NEWS.]

MR. EDITOR—Without disparaging the claims of the other gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in connection with the nomination for the Attorney-Generalship, I think the Convention would take the wisest of wise steps should the name of C. B. Watson be placed upon the Democratic ticket as the candidate for this responsible office. If nominated he would enter the campaign with an unimpeachable record, and a canvassing ability which no nominee for the same office in the other party could surpass. If elected he would bring to the discharge of his official duties a wise head and a noble heart. If the Democratic party goes to the people with a ticket made up of men as eminently qualified for their respective positions as Cy Watson is for Attorney-General, the interests of the State will be safe, and the success of the party beyond peradventure.

Chatham County Democracy.

[Correspondence of THE RALEIGH NEWS.]

PITTSBORO, N. C. June 7, 1880.

MR. EDITOR:—Our county convention assembled here to-day and proceeded to appoint ten delegates from each township in the county to the three conventions to meet next week. A new executive committee was then appointed, consisting of three men from each township, with T. B. Womack as chairman, after which came the events of the day. A resolution was introduced favoring Julian S. Carr for Lieutenant Governor and passed almost unanimously. A resolution declaring a large majority of Democrats in Chatham in favor of Fowle, as between him and Jarvis, and instructing for Fowle was tabled by a good majority after a heated debate.

The Fowle men being dissatisfied with the result wanted a vote by townships, so the motion was unanimously reconsidered and again tabled, with the instruction part of the resolution stricken out by a vote of 27 to 23, two townships supposed to be for Jarvis not being represented. X.

JARVIS IN THE WEST:—

Pigeon Valley, June 6.—Having seen some communications from Asheville, to the effect that Fowle would carry the West over Jarvis by a large majority, we desire to state some things which we know to be facts. The entire delegation from the West will cast its vote for Jarvis and it is a sheer impossibility to carry any county against him in convention or election. We have had an opportunity of visiting several of the counties in this section and find Democrats, Republicans, negroes, and all unanimous for Jarvis. He has a hold upon the people, at present, that cannot be given to any one else, either by bare assertions, or the malevolent attacks of designing men. He stood by Western North Carolina, in her hour of dire need, staking his political future upon the issue and the people of the transmontane country can never be charged with ingratitude, whatever else may be laid at their doors. Can the Democracy of the State afford to lose the solid West? The uncalled-for abuse of Jarvis, within the last few weeks, has fully aroused the determination for his support. We desire a man who will work for the interest of his State regardless of consequences. K. W. D.

How an Empress Dies.

[Cabled to the New York Herald, 7th.]

PARIS, June 6.—Our St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs as follows from Eyotkuhnen:—"I telegraph you from the German frontier the actual facts regarding the last moments of the Empress of Russia, which, by superior orders, the Russian telegraph refused to transmit.

"At four o'clock in the morning the doctor in attendance and the femme de chambre who sat up with her Majesty observed through the door of the bedroom, which had been left partly open, that her Majesty was sleeping tranquilly. At seven o'clock the femme de chambre whom her royal mistress was in the habit of ringing for entered the room, and thinking that the Empress was still asleep withdrew noiselessly. Half an hour later the femme de chambre became uneasy and aroused the doctor, who entered the room with her and found that her Majesty had breathed her last and that death was quite recent. It was now forty minutes past seven and the body was still warm.

ANNOUNCING THE EVENT.

"Word was sent to the Duchess of Edinburgh, who inhabited the Winter Palace with her three brothers, Alexis, Serge and Paul. They telegraphed immediately to the Emperor, who is residing at Tsarkoe Seloe, and who arrived at nine o'clock. He drove so rapidly that his carriage, in turning, upset one of the two Cossacks constituting his escort. The Duchess telegraphed to her husband in England, and Cossacks were sent off at full gallop to apprise all the members of the imperial family. Nevertheless, a rumor of the death, which it was proposed to keep secret until its official announcement, was spread throughout the city by the cook of the Empress, who went and countermanded the provisions ordered for her dejenner. The first telegram sent by the Emperor was addressed to the Emperor of Germany, and similar telegrams were sent to Queen Victoria, the Prince of Wales and Lord Granville."

Snags' Corners.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

The officials of a Michigan railroad now being extended were waited upon the other day by a person from the pine woods and sand hills who announced himself as Mr. Snags, and who wanted to know if it could be possible that the proposed line was not to come any nearer than 3 miles to the hamlet named in his honor.

"Is Snags' Corners a place of much importance?" asked the President.

"Is it? Well, I should say it was! We made over a ton of maple sugar there last Spring!"

"Does business flourish there?"

"Flourish! Why, business is on the gallop there every minute in the whole 24 hours. We had three false alarms of fire there in one week. How's that for a town which is to be left three miles off your railroad?"

Being asked to give the names of the business houses he scratched his head for awhile and then replied:

"Well, there's me, to start on. I run a big store, own eight yokes of oxen, and shall soon have a dam and saw-mill. Then there's a blacksmith shop, a postoffice, a doctor, and last week over half a dozen patent-right men passed through there. In one brief year we've increased from a squatter and two dogs to our present standing, and we'll have a lawyer there before long."

"I'm afraid we won't be able to come any nearer the Corners than the present survey," finally remarked the President.

"You won't! It can't be possible that you mean to skip a growing place like Snags' Corners!"

"I think we'll have to."

"Wouldn't come if I'd clear you out a place in the store for a ticket office?"

"I don't see how we could."

"May be I'd subscribe $25," continued the delegate.

"No, we cannot change."

"Can't do it nohow?"

"No."

"Very well," said Mr. Snags as he put on his hat. "If this 'ere railroad thinks it can stunt or cripple Snags' Corners by leaving it out in the cold it has made a big mistake. Before I leave town to-day I'm going to buy a windmill and a melodeon, and your old locomotives may toot and be hanged sir—toot and be hanged?"

The Chicago Platform.

The Republican party in National Convention Assembled, at the end of twenty years since the Federal Government was first committed to its charge, submits to the people of the United States this brief report of its administration. It suppressed a rebellion which had armed nearly a million of men to subvert the National authority. It reconstructed the union of the States with freedom instead of slavery as its corner-stone. It transformed 4,000,000 of human beings from the likeness of things to the rank of citizens. It relieved Congress of the infamous work of hunting fugitive slaves and charged it to see that slavery does not exist. It has raised the value of our paper currency from 38 per cent. to the par of gold. It has restored upon a solid basis payment in coin for all the National obligations, and has given us a currency absolutely good and equal in every part of our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the Nation from the point where 6 per cent. bonds sold at 86c., to that where 4 per cent. bonds are eagerly sought at a premium. Under its administration railways have increased from 31,000 miles in 1860 to more than 82,000 miles in 1879. Our foreign trade has increased from $700,000,000 to $1,150,000,000 in the same time, and our exports, which were $20,000,000 less than our imports in 1860, were $264,000,000 more than our imports in 1879 [applause]. Without resorting to loans it has since the war closed defrayed the ordinary expenses of government, besides the accruing interest on the public debt, and has annually disbursed more than $30,000,000 for soldiers' pensions. It has paid $888,000,000 of the public debt, and by refunding the balance at lower rates has reduced the annual interest charge from nearly $151,000,000 to less than $89,000,000. All the industries of the country have revived, labor is in demand, wages have increased, and throughout the entire country there is evidence of a coming prosperity greater than we have ever enjoyed.

Upon this record the Republican party asks for the continued confidence and support of the people, and this Convention submits for their approval the following statements of the principles and purposes which will continue to guide and inspire its efforts:

First—We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to commend itself to the favor of the Nation, and that the fruits of the costly victories which we have achieved through immense difficulties should be preserved; that the peace regained should be cherished; that the dissevered Union, now happily restored, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted undiminished to future generations; that the order established and the credit acquired should never be impaired, that the pensions promised should be extinguished by the full payment of every dollar thereof; that the reviving industries should be further promoted, and that the commerce, already so great, should be steadily encouraged.

Second—The Constitution of the United States is a supreme law and not a mere contract; out of Confederated States it made a sovereign Nation. Some powers are denied to the Nation, while others are denied to the States, but the boundary between the powers delegated and those reserved is to be determined by the National and not by the State tribunals.

Third—The work of popular education is one left to the care of the several States, but it is the duty of the National Government to aid that work to the extent of its constitutional duty. The intelligence of the Nation is but the aggregate of the intelligence in the several States, and the destiny of the Nation must be guided, not by the genius of any one State, but by the average genius of all.

Fourth—The Constitution wisely forbids Congress to make any law respecting an establishment of religion, but it is idle to hope that the Nation can be protected against the influence of sectarianism while each State is exposed to its domination. We therefore recommend that the Constitution be so amended as to lay the same prohibition upon the Legislature of each State, and to forbid the appropriation of public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

Fifth—We affirm the belief avowed in 1876 that the duties levied for the purpose of revenue should so discriminate as to favor American labor [applause]; that no further grant of the public domain should be made to any railway or other corporation; that slavery having perished in the States, its twin barbarity, polygamy, must die in the Territories [applause]; that everywhere the protection accorded to citizens of American birth must be secured to citizens by American adoption; and that we esteem it the duty of Congress to develop and improve our watercourses and harbors, but insist that further subsidies to private persons or corporations must cease; that the obligations of the Republic to the men who preserved its integrity in the hour of battle are undiminished by the lapse of the fifteen years since their final victory—to do them perpetual honor is, and shall forever be, the grateful privilege and sacred duty of the American people.

Sixth—Since the authority to regulate immigration and intercourse between the United States and foreign nations rests with Congress or with the United States and its treaty-making powers, the Republican party, regarding the unrestricted immigration of the Chinese as an evil of great magnitude, invoke the exercise of those powers to restrain and limit that immigration by the enactment of such just, humane and reasonable provisions as will produce that result.

Seventh—That the purity and patriotism which characterized the earlier career of Rutherford B. Hayes in peace and war, and which guided the thoughts of our immediate predecessors to him for a Presidential candidate have continued to inspire him in his career as Chief Executive, and that history will accord to his Administration the honors which are due to an efficient, just and courteous discharge of the public business, and will honor his interposition between the people and proposed partisan laws.

Eighth—We charge upon the Democratic party the habitual sacrifice of patriotism and justice to a supreme and insatiable lust of office and patronage; that to obtain possession of the National and State Governments and the control of place and position they have obstructed all effort to promote the purity and to conserve the freedom of suffrage, and have devised fraudulent certifications and returns; have labored to unseat lawfully-elected members of Congress, to secure at all hazards the vote of a majority of the States in the House of Representatives; have endeavored to occupy by force and fraud the places of trust given to others by the people of Maine, and rescued by the courageous action of Maine's patriotic sons; have, by methods vicious in principle and tyrannical in practice, attached partisan legislation to appropriation bills, upon whose passage the very movements of the Government depend, and have crushed the rights of individuals; have advocated the principles and sought the favor of rebellion against the Nation, and have endeavored to obliterate the sacred memories of the war, and to overcome its inestimably valuable results of nationality, personal freedom and individual equality.

The equal, steady and complete enforcement of laws and the protection of all our citizens in the enjoyment of all privileges and immunities guaranteed by the Constitution are the first duties of the Nation. The dangers of a Solid South can only be averted by a faithful performance of every promise which the Nation has made to the citizen. The execution of the laws and the punishment of all those who violate them are the only safe methods by which an enduring peace can be secured and genuine prosperity established throughout the South. Whatever promises the Nation makes the Nation must perform, and the Nation cannot with safety relegate this duty to the States. The Solid South must be divided by the peaceful agencies of the ballot, and all opinions must there find free expression, and to this end the honest voter must be protected against terrorism, violence or fraud.

And we affirm it to be the duty and the purpose of the Republican party to use every legitimate means to restore all the States of this Union to the most perfect harmony that may be practicable, and we submit it to the practical, sensible people of the United States to say whether it would not be dangerous to the dearest interests of our country at this time to surrender the administration of the National Government to the party which seeks to overthrow the existing policy under which we are so prosperous, and thus bring distrust and confusion where there are now order, confidence and hope.

The Republican party, adhering to the principles affirmed by the last National Convention, of respect for the Constitutional rules governing appointment to office, adopts the declaration of President Hayes that the reform in the Civil Service shall be thorough, radical and complete; to that end it demands the co-operation of the legislative with the executive departments of the Government, and that Congress shall so legislate that fitness, ascertained by proper practical tests, shall admit to the public service.

Russia and China.

[By Cable to the Herald.]

PARIS, June 6, 1880.—Our St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs as follows: "Two Russian iron-clads, carrying 1,000 infantry soldiers, will leave Cronstadt in a few days for China without its being intended to put into any port on the way. Other important shipments of troops will follow. War with the Celestials is considered certain here."

About Tooth-Pulling.

[From the Oil City Derrick.

An Oil City man was standing in front of a dentist's office with an anxious, unhappy look in his eyes, and two yards of flannel around his lower jaw. He cast sorrowful glances upward to the dentist's sign and in a hesitating sort of way placed his foot on the lower stair; then came out to the street again, as if he had forgotten something. Col. Solon came along at this moment, and with a thoughtful interest in the man's welfare, said:

"Toothache, eh? Goin' to have it pulled? No? Well, you'd better go right up afore you courage fails you. Worst thing in the world is pullin' a tooth. I've been through the war, had both lungs shot away, fifteen bullets in my head, and doctors run a probe through a hole in my shoulder right down my body to my toe—thought it would kill me. But, man alive I never knew what pain was till I had a tooth pulled. May be you think the toothache is horrible. It is; it's awful! But wait till the dentist runs them air iron tongs in your mouth, pulls the tooth right down through your jaw-bone, and then yanks away as if he was pulling on an old engine, and yer'll think the toothache ain't no more to be compared to it than a fleabite is to a railroad accident. Yer better go right up and have it out. Don't let eny body say I caused yer to back out. I merely wanted to prepare yer mind fer it. And don't yer take ether. Knew a man onct, about your complexion and build, who took ether, and he died. It's dangerous. Just go right up and have it out. I'll go up with yer an' see how yer stand it when he begins twistin' the bones around. Yer won't sleep a winkto-night if yer don't have it out; and maybe you won't anyhow for sometimes the tooth breaks the jaw, inflammatory rheumatism strikes the what's-its-name, and the what-they-call it sets in."

Just at this moment a young man practicing on a French horn in one of the upper rooms blew a long ear piercing blast, like the yell of a man in distress, and as the sound echoed through the hall, the colonel said: "That's it, there is some one getting a tooth pulled now, and the dentist has not any more than given the first twist, either. Come right up and have yours yanked. Whoop! there he goes again!" as another terrible blast from the horn came down the staircase. "Hold on, hold on, yelled the colonel—but he was not quick enough to stop the man with the aching tooth, who rushed out of the doorway and down the street so fast that his two yards of flannel became unwound and streamed behind him like signals of danger—while the villainous old Colonel sat down on the lower step and laughed till his eyes ached.

Dr. John Hall, of New York, says the members of his church during the past five years have given to benevolent objects, outside the church, a greater sum than the church edifice cost, or more than $1,000,000.

Madame, never bang a door, if you do adore a bang.

"The World" Ballads.

THE COMMENCEMENT ORATION AT MACASSAR FEMALE COLLEGE, AND THE VALEDICTORIAN.

It was an institution for
  Disseminating knowledge,
And to the world without known as Macassar Female College.
It was the time of year at which
  The earth begins to grin—
"Smile" would not rhyme—when, in old phrase,
  "Somer is y-comen in;"
When sweet girl-graduates with their gold
  And other shades of hair
Thinking of near Commencement Day
  Perpetually were;
How that they should the Class-Song sing,
  How plant the lithe Class-Tree,
How the Class-Sibyl should unfold
  Her weird Class-Prophecy;
The dresses they would wear—the tulle,
  Muslin or white "pekay,"
The parents—et al.—who'd be there
  Upon Commencement Day;
So rapt were they in thinking of
  That festival in June,
From 'tween their lips of coral oft
  Would fall the gum unchewn!

But of the graduating class
  Was ne'er a sweet g. g.
But somewhat nervous felt about
  Her valedictory.
"Others," quoth each, "are cleverer
  Than I" (she said "than me").
There was a bright young journalist
  In an adjacent city,
Who was not nearly so well off
  In this world's goods as witty.
"The time has come," thought he, "when schools
  And colleges adjourn;
Therewith an opportunity
  An honest dime to turn.
In many colleges must be
  A graduate or so
Who fain would valedictorize
  Better than he doth know.
I will write an advertisement
  Offering therein to pen
Essays and valedictories
  From five dollars up to ten,
On any subject that may be,
  For young women and young men."

The sweet girl-graduate who should
  The valedictory say,
More nervous grew as nearer drew
  The dread Commencement Day;
Not but she had her blue silk sash,
  Thereto her white "pekay;"
Not but her golden hair'd be dressed
  In a becoming way;
Not but the florist would contrive
  An exquisite "bokay"—
For never a cause like this it was
  She curdled her milky brow,
And bit and chewed her gum as doth
  Her cud the patient cow.
(When I make this comparison
  Naught to the lady's hurt is meant.)
But at last she in the paper spied
  The journalist's advertisement,
And straightway from her heart she felt
  Removed all care and pain,
As if a stay-lace, drawn too tight,
  Had parted swift in twain;
And she dispatched, long ere the sun
  The western hills had kissed,
A note and a ten dollar bill
  To that young journalist.
And the man in the village "which was P. M.,"
  He marvelled much to see
Letters mailed each day to that address
  By one, and two and three,
And said unto himself, "I vum
  That youth doth mash en masse,
He hath fascinated to a girl
  The whole graduating class"

At last Commencement Day hath come,
  And now the sweet g. g.
Sweeps to the platform's front to read
  Her valedictory.
In sixty-seven buttoned kids,
  The sweetest white "pekay,"—
She 'gins to read her touching screed
  "The Dark Before The Day."
While the other sweet g. g.'s, arranged
  In semi-circle due,
Sit with neat rolls of manuscript
  Fastened with pink or blue,
Essays upon "The Sweets of Hope,"
  Upon "My Childhood's Home,"
Upon "The Beauty of Repose,"
  "Thoughts by the Sad Sea Foam,"
"An Hour of Twilight Musings," or
  "The Woof of Memory,"
And kindred subjects that befit
  The valedictory.
And all the other sweet g. g.'s
  Smile cheerfully and hope
That she may swallow her front teeth
  Or a key-stone hair-pin drop.

She had not read a line, a line,
  A line, but barely three,
When at her glared like a basilisk
  Each other sweet g. g.
And when she had read three more lines
  Their breaths they all drew in,
And each did gaze at each in amaze
  As if they'd sleeping bin.
And when she had read three more lines
  Up a sweet g. g. did spring
And cried, "Oh, Mamie Wintergreen,
  You real mean, hateful thing,
How dared you pilfer word for word
  My valedictory?
Letter and syllable are alike
  As my 'Woof of Memory.'"
"Oh, Mollie Maybanks, when you die
  Where do you expect to go?"
Shrieked out another sweet g. g.,
  Her dusky cheek aglow;
"The lines that Mamie just has read
  Are word and letter those
Which I wrote in my essay on
  'The Beauty of Repose.'"
"Oh, my!" exclaimed another maid,
  "I like all your accusings;
The passage is stolen bodily
  From my 'Hour of Twilight Musings.'"

He that was neither kith nor kin
  Had seen a full fair fray
As the twenty-seven sweet g. g.'s
  Did close in the melee;
There was a patter of hair-pins and
  A ripping of white "pekay,"
Till one of the sweet g. g.'s exclaimed
  In about natural B:
"Oh, girls, the man has sold us all
  The same valedictory!"
And twenty-seven g. g.'s sank down
  With twenty-seven squeals,
In strong hysterics, drumming with
  Twenty-seven pairs of heels. * * *

The practices I don't defend
  Of that young journalist,
But one great truth it cannot be
  Denied the scoundrel wist:
There's a class of valedictories
  Where, whatever is the name,
The matter will be found to be
  Invariably the same!

CITY AND COUNTY NOTES:—

Neuse river is up.

Garfield—Gar-fish—Gar-broth.

Again a single marriage license.

Milburnie reports no grass in the cotton.

The first roasting ears have come to market.

Candidates for the Legislature are more numerous.

The dialogue yesterday: "Who's got it?" "Garfield." "Who's he?" "Damphino."

The mere nomination of Garfield so paralyzed our industries that the internal revenue receipts yesterday were only $307.33.

Senator Everitt, of Forsyth, is well supplied with new clothes, hats, gloves, cigars, &c., won on Garfield's nomination, whom he was for, first, last and all the time.

The weather to-day will be windy with heavy but short showers. A highland moccasin was killed and hung up in the Northern part of the city yesterday by Maj. Sam. Hinsdale.

The Good Shepherd Sunday-school children had a good time yesterday on their pic-nic excursion. Dancing, dinner and everything was exactly right. They reached home last night at 8, happy and tired.

Yesterday morning the sheriff was busy settling with the county commissioners. We stepped into his office and found the county attorney, G. H. Snow and Sol. J. Allen, one of the county commissioners, going over his books. Of course they were all right.

A huckster was before the mayor yesterday, charged with buying and re-selling articles of food in the market-house. The evidence was very clear as to the buying but this not being wrong by the market-house code, and there being no evidence of re-selling, he was discharged.

The blind pupils of the white Asylum will have a little entertainment of their own to-night, consisting of debates, music, &c. Principal Gudger has added much to the enjoyment of the young gentlemen and ladies of the Blind Department in permitting these occasional sociables.

Yesterday we met a farmer from Little River. He was mad. He said, "You put down that I say the farmers in Little River is got 'bout half a stand of cotton and 'bout half a stand of corn, and what they is got don't look good for a cuss, and that fellow that wrote to THE NEWS last week 'bout Little River crops must've been 'sleep."

The excursion train to Wake Forest this morning will leave Raleigh at 10 o'clock, as previously announced, but it will leave that place on the return trip at 10 p. m. instead of 1:30, as heretofore announced. The trains Thursday will run in accordance with our previous announcement. The fare on all the excursion trains will be 75 cents for the round trip.

Justice Barbee was engaged yesterday in trying the case of one James Jeffries. It seems that James had been sent to the Work House to render an equivalent in labor for certain costs incurred by him. Becoming wearied of his enforced rural retirement, James recently made a dash for liberty and Johnston county. He gained the latter only to again lose the former, for the Sheriff of Johnston brought him back to Raleigh and the iron-hearted justice re-sent him to his former enforced seclusion from the society of which he was so bright an ornament.

DEPARTMENT NOTES:—

The Secretary of State issued thirty-six land grants during the month of May.

Deputy Sheriff J. A. Avett of Anson turned Robt. Sellars over to the Penitentiary authorities yesterday, and Sheriff C. F. Wagner of Rowan did the like kind office for Crawford Josey, Harrison Rives, John Wilson and Robert Payne.

The amount of old bonds received yesterday was $12,000. The whole amount of old bonds received to date is $6,405,145, of which $3,098,300 were of the 40 per cent class; $1,684,045 of the 25 per cent class, and $1,622,800 of the 15 per cent class.

GARFIELD—GRANT:—

"To change the name and not the letter,
Is to change for worse and not for better."

Greeley is avenged. "Anything to beat Grant" won at Chicago.

CONTEST FOR A MEDAL.—There will be a contest this Wednesday evening for a medal by five of the blind pupils of the North Carolina Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind. The medal will be awarded to the one who delivers the best original speech to be determined by three disinterested judges. There will also be music by the class. Exercises at the chapel for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind commencing at 8:30 o'clock. The public are invited to be present.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.—Regular meeting of Oak City Lodge 419, Knights of Honor to-night. Every member requested to be present. Business of importance.

THE WHALE.—A publication under the above title will make its appearance to-morrow, and continue until after the State Convention. It will be published by a Whale, for the Whales, and will Whale away at every thing the Whales don't like.

No communications will be published. WHALE'S P. C.

POOL-SELLING.—Just before the last ballot for the Presidential nomination was had yesterday pools were sold in the crowd on the Presidential race and on the Gubernatorial contest in this State. The pools on the Presidency were: Grant, $2.50; Blaine, $1.00; field, $4.00. The Governor's nomination: Jarvis sold for $25.00; Fowle for $6.00 and the field for $1.00.

HAIL STORM.—From a private telegram received in this city at a late hour last night we learn that a very heavy hail storm, accompanied by wind and lightning, swept over the country in the vicinity of Osgood, on the Raleigh and Augusta Railroad yesterday afternoon. The hail did great damage to the crops in its track and the lightning struck one house and several telegraph poles. There were no injuries to persons.

ST. MARY'S LAST NIGHT.—The entertainment at St. Mary's School last night was in character with the high reputation of that institution. The music was good and the dramatic recitation splendid. The young ladies who took part in the exercises were Misses Foil, Peebles, Smedes, DeRosset, Allston, Griffin, Settle, Hardin, Sutton, Winston, Sharp, Slater, Blume, Shaw, Cuningham, Huger and McNair. All acquitted themselves admirably.

OUR NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Our new advertisements this morning present a varied field, and that man must indeed be hard to please who can not find something to his taste in them. Messrs. Yeargan, Petty & Co. advertise a shirt which they have sold for ten or twelve years, and which has never yet failed to give satisfaction; to which Messrs. R. B. Andrews & Co. add the cheapest white vest to be found anywhere.

Mrs. E. N. Grant informs those who desire sleep in the morning where to send the children to school; and Mr. J. D. Whitaker advertises his coal and wood just as if the mercury was crawling down to zero.

Mr. H. L. Brack wants to manufacture fertilizers. Mr. Wayne Allcott has a benevolent desire to serve humanity by selling perfectly safe and gentle steam engines; and the farmers are invited to correspond with Messrs. W. B. Dunn & Co., on the subject of ploughs.

PERSONAL:—

Judge Avery has finished his spring circuit and passed through Raleigh yesterday on his way home.

Among the many prominent gentlemen in the city we notice the names of Col. Thos. Ruffin, of Hillsboro, Col. R. G. Pegram, Receiver of the Petersburg Railroad, Col. L. D. Starke, of Norfolk, Maj. J. C. McRae, of Fayetteville, Maj. L. M. Long, of the Roanoke News, Mr. C. A. Cook, of Warren, and Dr. J. S. Watkins, of Henderson.

Judges Bond and Brooks, of the Federal Court, arrived in the city last night and will open court to-day.

Rev. Theo. Whitfield, D. D., of Charlotte, Rev. J. B. Boone, of Statesville, J. M. White, Esq., of Clayton, Rev. W. L. Wright, of Hillsboro, and Prof. A. F. Redd, of Chapel Hill, passed through the city yesterday on their way to Wake Forest College Commencement.

Mrs. Dr. Thos. E. Skinner left the city yesterday in answer to a telegram that her father, Mr. Ludlow, of New York city, was dying.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The board was again in session on yesterday, and did a large amount of business, the most important of which is as follows:

The order not to grant liquor licenses to dealers on Fayetteville street was revoked.

Jno. R. Upchurch was appointed to keep rafts from Milburnie Bridge.

The report of the jury in the case of the new road from the Oxford road to Jacob Hunter's having been confirmed, an appeal was taken to the Superior Court.

The new bridge at Milburnie was accepted.

A communication was received from the Durham Board of Trade relative to the bridge at Fish Dam, and Commissioner Allen was appointed to attend to the matter.

C. W. Williams was appointed to keep rafts from the bridge across Neuse river near Poole's mill.

It was ordered that one hundred and fifty feet of one inch hose be purchased for the use of the county.

The old Hillsboro road through Brooklyn was made a public road.

A new road was ordered to be laid out as prayed in the petition of citizens of Cary township.

Many accounts were allowed and much business relating to the outside poor and to schools was transacted.

The Board adjourned till the first Monday in July, 12 o'clock m.

THAT CROWD.—The usual crowd assembled yesterday in front of the telegraph office to watch the news from Chicago. The talk was as chequered as ever and we regretted that we could not write shortnand. Had we been able to do so THE NEWS would have been more popular than ever for it would have represented every phase of every idea ever conceived of. We remember one conversation and it must go as a sample of them all. It was when Sherman for the first time went above 100 votes, Edmunds at the same time falling to his lowest notch. One man said I tell you it don't mean nothin;' Edmunds is goin' to give his vote to Grant and nominate him when the time comes." "Yes, but Edmunds' vote has already gone to Sherman." "That's so," replied the first, "but then you see Edmunds can't control his vote."

The crowd remained in waiting until Garfield's nomination was announced and then, well that crowd was disgusted. We do not think a wetter blanket was ever thrown over a crowd since the world was made than that under which republican faces exhibited themselves when the news was confirmed; but such is life, "montes parturiunt nascitur ridiculus mus."

What North Carolinians are Doing.

GLEANINGS FROM STATE EXCHANGES.

And Saul is among the prophets. The Wilmington Star has a pretty well authenticated 111-year-old negro woman, who is able to get about though her children are gray-headed old boys.

It is whispered about in railroad circles, says the Charlotte Observer, that Col. A. Pope, the general passenger and freight agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, will become general eastern agent of the Louisville and Nashville combination, with headquarters in New York, at a salary of $10,000.

Salem has a negro woman 118 years old, the Winston Leader says. According to her own statement, she was fourteen years old when the battle of Bunker Hill was fought. She is certain of this, because her young master was killed in that battle and her mistress read her age out of an old Bible that year.

The Hickory Press says that Catawba's wheat crop is tolerably fair; and that Iredell farmers have put out a large crop of tobacco and will harvest "a good half crop of wheat." The Davidson wheat, the Lexington Exchange says, is a fair one; oats coming out well since the rains; corn doing well, and cotton never looked better.

Capt. S. S. Kirkland, a civil engineer well known in North Carolina, who has recently been engaged in work on the Greenwood & Augusta Railroad, passed through the city yesterday morning, going to Asheville to join the corps of engineers who are to survey the routes for the Western North Carolina Railroad beyond Asheville.

The directors of the Chester & Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad have contracted with the Roane Iron Company for the immediate delivery of 200 tons of iron, and a sufficient quantity of spikes, bolts and fastenings to lay it. This quantity will be more than sufficient to lay the track from Dallas to South Fork. When the bridge over the stream shall have been built, additional iron will be procured to complete the road to Lincolnton.

We return thanks for an invitation to attend the concert and commencement of Salem Academy on the 16th and 17th days of the present month. The concert will be on Wednesday night, and, if this Academy keeps up the high reputation it formerly enjoyed and deserved, will be a rare musical treat. The programme for Thursday night includes the salutatory address by Miss Davis, essays on "Our Native Land," and "Woman's Work," by Misses Smith and Winkler; on the "Taste for the Beautiful" and "Cooking," by Misses Vest and Raine, the annual address by President Battle of the University and valedictory by Miss Bobbitt.

STATE POLITICAL ITEMS:—

Rockingham county Democrats send their delegates uninstructed.

The Pasquotank Convention on Saturday instructed for Jarvis.

Alamance Democratic delegates are instructed to vote for Col. Thomas M. Holt for Lieutenant Governor.

Gaston County Democrats met in convention on Monday and instructed delegates in favor of Jarvis and Robinson.

The Swain Democratic County Convention on the 1st inst. instructed for Jarvis and Robinson, Saunders, Worth, Love, Kenan and Scarborough.

The Hertford Convention passed a resolution endorsing Gov. Jarvis, and then a resolution expressing confidence in Judge Fowle and Gen. Scales. The sentiment of the county, the writer says, is in favor of Jarvis and the majority of the delegates are Jarvis men.

THE WEALTH OF YOUNG LOVE.

Edwin (who has just sold his first sketch from nature to a benevolent-looking stranger for twenty guineas)—There, love, it only took me two hours. Working six hours a day for six days a week, that makes eighteen sketches—at twenty guineas each, 360 guineas a week—say pounds—that's £18,720 per annum—say £18,000 per year, as we must take a fortnight's holiday, you know. And all that without reckoning that I mean to raise my prices as I go on.

The Battle of White Hall Bridge.

[From the Fayetteville Observer, Jan. 12, 1863.]

CAMP WHITING, Jan. 3.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The conduct of the 31st Regiment in the late fight at White Hall having been pretty severely animadverted upon in certain high as well as low circles, and feeling myself mostly responsible for what seems to have drawn forth these criticisms, I take the earliest practicable moment to state the facts of the case, and assume publicly my entire share of the responsibility. Early in the action the 31st was ordered, by Gen. Robertson, to a point on the road about 150 yards in the rear of our forces then engaged: they being protected by the gunboat in process of construction and the timbers thrown along the river bank.

Here, for two hours, we lay exposed to the enemy's fire of shot, ball and shell. A line drawn from the exact point at which we subsequently ascertained a field battery of twelve pieces was posted, to the centre of the right wing of our regiment, (my position,) would pass directly over the gunboat frame and adjacant piles of lumber. The fire was terrific and our men were suffering severely; yet not allowed to advance nor fire a shot. I could not see the necessity of thus exposing men, and called repeatedly on Col. Jordan, who was some twenty paces in advance, at the head of the regiment to know if I might not move back a short distance, leaving the first two companies, which were not so directly in range of the enemy's guns, and more protected by trees, logs, &c., thus causing a short gap in our line; but owing to the incessant roar of musketry and artillery, I could not be heard. Most probably this was not in strict keeping with the ideas of some military men, but to my humble view, it seemed better than the causeless murder of the gallant and brave men around me. At last, when two men had been killed at my side, and eight or ten wounded; when the shot and shells were flying thickly among us, and the limbs and trees crashing all around, I gave the order to fall back as above. Call this "running," "scattering to the woods like a legion of devils was after us," (as elegantly expressed by one of our friends,) or anything else, I most readily take all the blame that may attach to it. I am glad I gave the order—always shall be—and would do it a thousand times over under similar circumstances. But it may be as surprising to some as it was agreeable to me, to hear that the highest military authority present at Goldsboro, on our arrival there, endorsed and approved, most emphatically, my order. This was done in the presence of a distinguished gentleman and soldier of our State and myself.

I am fully aware of the fact that officers and men on the left of our regiment, unable to hear an order, and seeing the movement, took it for granted that the whole regiment was falling back, and that some few did act badly; but it is of the regiment and the order I gave that I speak. With the assistance of Captain (acting Major) Knight and other officers, as brave and true as ever drew blade, I soon restored order and had the eight companies, which I had caused to withdraw, in readiness to move back to the scene of action. True, we had moved further back than was proper or than was intended; but this was on account of the slight confusion following the cause just mentioned. A few men may have "taken to the woods," not to return; if so, I hope they may persist in that latter determination.

When afterwards ordered to the scene of action, the companies with me obeyed most cheerfully and readily, and those carried into the fight—the rifle companies—fought well and gallantly.

On the two days succeeding the fight, the four companies left under my command as a picket guard, frequently exchanged shots with the enemy's pickets, killing two certainly and probably more.

On the third day a detachment of my men was sent over to bury the Yankee dead. They obtained sixty superior rifles and a large number of overcoats, cartridges, rubber cloths, &c., &c.; buried nine men; saw many graves, dead horses, and signs of a terrible havoc by our artillery (which was not before thought by us to have done much damage) and musketry. Two wounded men, of 24th Massachusetts Regiment, were also brought over and well cared for. They were bitter in their denunciation of Lincoln, profuse in expressions of gratitude to us for saving their lives when deserted by their comrades, and apparently most anxious for peace.

But this is not what I set out to write about, and I conclude as I commenced by saying, that the 31st did not, in my opinion, act badly, and if it did, I am responsible and alone to blame. Most respectfully.

E. R. LILES,

Bro. Gardner on Wayward Wanderers.

[Detroit Free Press, Lime-Kiln Proceedings.]

"De man who finks he knows it all am walkin' his way to de po'-house," solemnly observed the old man as he slowly drew in his legs and stood up. "Ize findin' men ebery day who know so much dat dey doan' want advice. It am de hardest work in de world, nex' to splittin' swamp-ash rails, to convince one o' dis sort dat he kin possibly be wrong or any one else be right. When a member of dis club comes to me an' axes my advice as to whedder he better quit a steady job to rush out to de Black Hills or de White Hills or Leadville, or any oder specificashus locality, I stan' ready to waste a heap o' talk on him. When one finks he knows all about it hisself an' makes a rush, I want it understood dat I doan' raise any mo' beans an taters dan my own family kin eat." The fact that Samuel Shin and Restorer Johnson were intending to set out for Leadville probably gave rise to the above remarks. The hint that their families need expect no assistance from the club may make a radical change in their plans.

"A Call" from the Frontier.

[Aurora (Nev.) Herald.]

We are sorely in need of a preacher, but we don't want any cheap trash. We want a good, muscular Christian, who can snatch sinners by the scruff of the neck and drag them howling up the plane of righteousness, and who will not drink more than he can hold. Such a man will get a right smart lay-out here. If he can play the fiddle for the regular weekly dance it will augment his salary somewhat.

Too Late.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

As a Detroit constable was on his way down town the other morning, he was met by two men; one of them was a stranger and the other an old friend. The latter held out his hand and said:

"Mr. Blank, I hear that one of your six regular jurymen died last night."

"Ah, yes. The poor fellow is gone. He was a truly good man. Summer and winter he was always around the office ready to go on any sort of case, and I have sometimes been almost convinced that he really allowed his verdict to be guided by the evidence."

"Is that possible? Didn't he always return for the plaintiff?"

"Yes, except on rare occasions. He was a sterling juryman, and every attempt to bribe him with two dollars was always repelled with indignation."

"While I grieve with you, Mr. Blank, let me present to you my friend Doe. As a steady juryman he has no superior. His red nose, his old coat, his run-down boots, all mark him as a first-class juror in a Justice's court."

"Ah! why did I not meet you two hours earlier!" sighed the constable, as they shook hands. "Over twenty applications have already been made for the vacancy, and I have as good as promised it to a friend who feels as if he really ought to buy his own tobacco and whisky as long as his wife pays the rent and supports the family."

"Then there is no hope?"

"I fear not, though he might hang around the coroner's office and trust to luck. Good-bye—I'm awful sorry."

A Wintry Home.

[From Paris Letter.]

The new girl had only been with them a week when she came to say she was going away.

"Why?" asked the lady.

"The place does not please me."

"Again, why?"

"Well, Monsieur is altogether too cold."

TO PHOSPHATE DEALERS.

A MANUFACTURER of Phosphate in Baltimore, whose factory is capable of producing 4,000 tons of Ammoniated Phosphate, having but limited capital, would like to enter into arrangements with some party at the South to manufacture for them for the coming season. A manufacturer's profit would be required only, and any grade of Phosphate made required, and at a large saving to the dealer. The subscriber's own brand of fertilizer has a high character and reputation. Want of capital is the only barrier to success. Address H. L. BRACK, 72 Exchange Place, cor. South, Baltimore. EXPLANATION.—A pupil who is now using a book by some other author, may, by giving it up in exchange, buy one of Holmes' or Maury's books of same kind and grade, at the Exchange Price. This he can do, no matter how much soiled or worn his old book may be. If he has no old book to exchange, then he may buy one of Holmes' or Maury's at the Introduction Price.

GILDERSLEEVE'S
LATIN SERIES.
—BY—
B. L. Gildersleeve, Ph. D., Gottingen, LL.D., Professor of Greek in Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Rarely have text-books been greeted with so large a measure of favor and hearty appreciation, as these books by Professor Gildersleeve have received from the best scholastic and educational minds of the country. The author, now of national reputation as a scholar, has had very complete preparation for such a work. After being graduated at Princeton, he studied for several years in the Universities of Germany, where he received his Ph.D., etc., with highest honors. His subsequent life has been devoted to teaching and linguistic study. When the new and richly endowed Johns Hopkins University sought for a fit man for its chair of Greek, the appointment was conferred on Prof. Gildersleeve, after wide conference, and without his solicitation or effort, and his work as senior professor of the University attracts marked attention. He is also the presiding officer of the American Philogical Association.

Prof. Gildersleeve's Latin books are the product of this order of ability and educational training. Embodying the best results of recent studies in Latin philology, they are simple, clear and practical in method.

THE LATIN PRIMER,
complete in itself, a naturally developed course for beginners, at once holds the interest of the pupil, and prepares him thoroughly for ready and intelligent use of Grammar and Reader, or Latin author. It supplies: "Maximum of Forms; Minimum of Syntax; Early Contact with the Language in Mass."

A teacher in one of the leading High Schools of the country, who conducted a large class through this book, writes:

"We have just finished the Primer, having spent upon it thirty-four weeks; and I have been trying to realize my pupils' attitude towards the study, as compared with that of other classes I have known. They have the use of a larger vocabulary; their text-book has secured for them a careful drill in the normal terminations; they have been brought more into contact with the language in the concrete, and have, therefore, a more vivid interest in it; and they have been less perplexed by exceptional forms and difficult construction.

"The book is thoroughly alive, and will perforce make its students so."

THE LATIN GRAMMAR
is marked by its genuine scholarship, clear and logical arrangement of material, and a typography that pleasantly aids the eye. Its presentation of forms is plain and convenient; its definitions, rules and other statements are brief and pointed; and its translations of illustrative examples are most striking models for students.

THE LATIN READER
has Fables and Stories; "De Gestis Alexandri," a most interesting narrative, chiefly from Curtius; one book of Cæsar's "De Bello Gallico," treated in a manner to make it an admirable drill in Latin Syntax; also notes and References to the Grammar, and a Vocabulary.

THE LATIN EXERCISE-BOOK, a book of Latin Composition, compact in form, is noticeable for its well-graded course of exercises, apt choice of idioms, and adaptation to train the average learner to a thorough mastery of the words and constructions of the language.

Single specimen copies for examination furnished on receipt of the following prices:

LATIN PRIMER, 12mo, 192 pages	$0 65
LATIN GRAMMAR, 12mo, 384 pages	95
LATIN READER, 12mo, 192 pages	70

We call special attention to our Improved Portable Engine, for Agricultural and other purposes. The Boilers of our Agricultural Engines are provided with our Patent Premium Spark Extinguisher, a device by which the sparks are forced to pass downward over a reservoir of water and effectually extinguished without the use of wire gauze. Ours is the only arrangement of this kind which affords free access to the boiler tubes for cleaning from each end. The officers of a large number of the best Insurance Companies pronounce this Spark Extinguisher perfect in its operation.

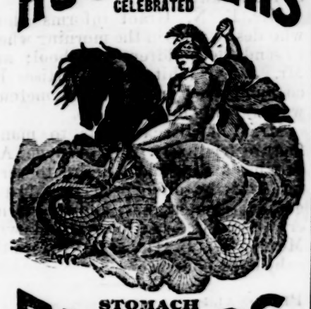
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED



STOMACH BITTERS

Fever and Ague.

The true antidote to the effects of miasma is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This medicine is one of the most popular remedies of an age of successful proprietary specifics, and is in immense demand wherever on this continent fever and ague exists. A wine-glass full three times a day is the best possible preparative for encountering a malarious atmosphere, regulating the liver and invigorating the stomach.

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulder-blade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, highly colored Urine.

IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says: "After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says: "I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

Office 35 Murray Street, New York.
